Washington, Jan. 10, 1857. EDITORS TIMES: There is a great contrariety of opinion here as to Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet. There are those who believe that he has not yet ined upon a single member of his Cabinet, and that he will not do so until after he visits Washington and consults with the leading Democrats here. He is to visit Washington on the 20th inst., and it is said that after a brief stay he will return to Wheatland and determine upon his constitutional advisers.

Others say that he has already made up his Cabinet, and that he has given intimations of the persons who are to compose it.

Between these opinions I am unable to deter mine which is correct, though my authority is of the highest character, that the Cabinet has been

There is one thing very certain, that Ma Buchanan has not yet consulted any of the leading, distinguished, and most trusted Democrats Washington, relative to his Cabinet. President Pierce and his able and distinguished Cabnet, as well as Senators Douglas, Hunter, Mason, Butler, Cass, and all the distinguished States Rights members of Congress, of both Houses, have been entirely overlooked by him. He has consulted none of them, and if he has consulted with any Democrats here, it has been with Cobb, Bright, Slidell, and that class of pol-South nor of the Union.

When Mr. Buchanan visits Washington on the 20th, if he does present the piebald Cabinet which rumor says he has selected, he will meet a storm which must drive him to another selection, or his administration will wither from the

If he fails to meet this feeling, his administration, from the beginning, will be environed with embarrassments, and will result in a disgraceful

Your correspondent has great faith in "old Buck," and fully believes that he will first consult the best Democrats of the country, and then make up his Cabinet of sterling States Rights men of both sections of the Union, and that those true friends of Judge Douglas, who worked so faithfully for the success of the party, will not only be fairly represented in the Cabi net, but will also receive their just proportion of the honors and emoluments of office.

Washington is very gay at this time. Parties and dinners are the order of the day, or rather night-for the fashionable dinners here never come off until night. Your correspondent has not been overlooked, and has had the honor of dining with Judge Douglas, Secretary Guthrie, and President Pierce, and has also been honored with invitations to various "Hops." &c., &c.

Bherrd Lewis D. Campbell, of Ohio, speak yesterday. He is very far from being a great man. He possesses great knowledge of the Rules of the House, and that gives him some prominence, but we have five hundred men in Kentucky who can beat him speaking, and thousands who are men of more talents. He has the reputation, however, of being a clever gentleman, and is very well thought of by Southern men.

There are few good speakers in the House There is not one who is superior to a number of Kentuckians whom I might name.

My paper is full. J. C. N P. S. A letter was received to-day by a distinguished Southern member of Congress, from Capital, Mr. Buchanan, in which he states that there is not a shadow of foundation for the various rumors relative to his Cabinet—that no man knows who will constitute his Cabinet-that he does not know himself, for he has not determined it. He further writes that he will soon visit Washington, consult with the Democracy, and then form his Cabinet.

This I know to be the fact, and your readers J. C. N. may rely upon it fully.

New Advertising Agency.—The Chicago Times says that the New York agent of the associated Press, has turned his attention to advertising. Here is one of frequent similar despatches, sent by him as telegraphic news, and itous insertion in all the papers, of the west:

New York, Jan. 9th.-The new Belgian line of steamers have adopted Silver's marine gov-ernor for their steamships now building. All the Collins, steamships are also to be supplied with it, the Atlantic having used one for some time with admirable success. The owners of the Baltimore and Richmond line have also decided to use it on all their steamers.

Now Mr. Craig, we wish you to understand that we require payment for all advertising in our columns generally we require prepayment to prevent forgetfulness—but as you and ourselves are old acquaintances, we are willing to open an account with you, to be settled say every six months. We think considerable business might be done in 'special notices' "by telegraph." Just think of it, Mr. Craig. Try your hand in the patent medicine line; that pays everybody well except the man who takes See if you cannot secure for the western press, daily, a half column of "special notices," of the style of your "first rate" notice of "Silver's marine governor." Just think how the following announcement "by telegraph" would

"The newly married couple just set up in fifth avenue, have, with a view to prolong their honeymoon eternally, adopted the invariable rule of using one bottle of the Mustang Liniment every day. All the other brides and bridegroom's in that avenue, are also to be supplied with it, one or two, of the most fashionable couples having used it for a long time with admirable success, the several others not yet married, contemplate using it very soon."

La In 1852 General Pierce swept the country by a heavy majority, North and South; yet it is a singular fact and one that shows the recuperative powers of Democracy in the free States, that in those States Mr. Buchanan receives 125,000 more votes than Pierce did. After the assertions so boldly made that the Northern Democracy had been swallowed up by the Republican and Know Nothing parties, this result, showing Fremont but about 120,000 ahead of Buchanan in There was no excitement on the consistence of the indictment announced till I informed him of There was no excitement on the consistence of the con the free States, is an unanswerable refutation of the assumption. THE COAL TRADE OF PENNSYLVANIA. - We find a late number of the Philadelphia North American, a very interesting sketch of the anthracite coal trade of Pennsylvania, from which we gather the following facts. The total yield of anthracite coal in 1820 was only three hundred and sixty-five tons. The yield for the year 1856 amounts to more than seven million two hundred and fifty thousand tons. The unprecedentedly rapid growth of the trade may be inferred from the following table, showing the yield from the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania for the year 1820, 1830, 1840, 1850, and 1856:

Satimating the bituminous coal productions of the State for the past year at 2,000,000 tons, we would have a grand aggregate of 9,258,891 tons for the year. The North American remarl s: "The total value of our coal for 1856, reckoned at $4 25 a ton at the place of delivery or consumption, would be but a fraction short of $40,000,000—a sum more than sufficient to meet the ordinary annual expenses of our national government." The North American might have added that Pennsylvania received enough from one year's produce of her coal mines to extinguish the whole of her State debt

AN APT REPLY. - In reply to the sneering remark of the New York Herald, that the Southern Democratic press had become more moderate in their tone, the Mobile Register says: their tone, the mobile negatier says:

"The Democratic press of the South have grown more moderate in their tone because they feel satisfied that the election of Mr. Buchanan has secured to the country a firm and impartial supporter of the Constitution and the individual rights of the States. They have confidence in rights of the States. They have confidence in the man. They know him to be a true lover not only of the Union, but of the Constitution, those Siamese twins of liberty which, if one is stabbed by fanaticism, the other dies of despair."

was in error in stating that Wm. C. Preston attempted to escape when informed that the grand jury had found an indictment against him for murder. We are satisfied of this from inquiring into the facts of the case, as well as from the statement of the officer who made the arrest, which we publish below. We wish to do Preston no injustice whatever. He is entitled to a fair and impartial trial, and ought to have it:

LOUISVILLE, Jan'y 14, 1857.

Messes. Editors:—My attention has been called by the friends of Wm. C. Preston to an article in the Times of this morning, in relation to the arrest of that person on yesterday. As the article is calculated to do great injustice to Preston, and as I was the officer who arrested him, I deem it but a simple act of justice to say that there is no foundation, in fact, for the statement that Preston ran or attempted to escape from the arrest. Preston had given bail to appear at the Criminal Court, and was standing about the court room when the grand jury brought in their indictment against him. As soon as they did so I went towards the door and Preston was passing through it into the hall. I spoke to him and

On his way home, after the exhibition closed, he discovered that his pocket-book was gone, when he immediately re-traced his steps to the Melodeon, which he searched thoroughly without discovering any trace of the pocket-book. The next day, he again made search in the Melodeon, when he found the pocket-book, divested of its contents, in a place which he had searched well the night before. As the magical "fixings" of the "Fakir" were left in the room on Saturday night, and he alone had possession of the key from the time Mr. M. searched it that night until the search the next day when he found his pocket-book, he caused the "Fakir" and his attendants to be arrested and thoroughly searched, but without finding any money upon them, and he has not yet been able to get the slightest due to the thief.

LOUISVILLE, KY. N calling the attention of desires in our line in this maket, we would state that during the last six months our attention has been directed to getting up a large number of new stoves and Grate Patterns, which, added to our already large stock, gives us one of the most extensive and diversified assortments in the Mesters market. Among the number we would refer to our "Ashland kennuckens" Ooop-Stove, three sizewatt. Tasee Stoves have great weight of metal, highly finished and man an appearance. They combine all the modern in avenuents that practical experience has developed. We would avrise dealers to call and examine for themselves, and we think in quality, price, &c., they can be sensed. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.

Senars.—The bill from the House making appropriations for the support of the Military Academy, taken up and passed.

Mr. Benjamin reported a bill making appropriation for improvement by contract, of the Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and Arkansas rivers.

Mr. Benjamin remarked at the lower contracts. Mr. Benjamin remarked at the last ses-ion that bills were referred to the Committee on Commerce to provide for such objects. The committee being unable to agree on the subject no report was than made.

The proposition in those bills was to advertise for a certain number of hands to do work remove various obstructions to those rivers by contract, but the cummittee found great difficulties in such a system and accordingly reported that now before the Senate, the consideration of which he would ask at an early day.

The bill proposes to have the western rivers divided into convenient sections and then advertise by contract for the removal of all obstructions to the navigation of each section, whether from stumps, snags, sunken wrecks, rocks, logs, or of whatever nature; either in the main logs, or of whatever nature; either in the main channels or in channels leading to various ports or channels. It provides that no money shall be paid on any contract until the entire work undertaken shall be completed and inspected by suitable officers of a topographical corps of engineers. The bill includes various appropriations which do not exceed $150,000 per annum for five years. For that sum the committee have ascertained that contracts could certainly be made by which all the eastern rivers could be kept entirely clear. These obstructions at these kept entirely clear. These obstructions at present so destructive to life and property will be removed at the end of five years, when these rivers are to be delivered up to the government entirely free from obstructions, and then a continuous aproppriation of one third this sum will keep them clear.

Mr. Houston offered a resolution which lies over, calling on the President to inform the Senate of the number of desertions from the Na Senate of the number of desertions from the Navy since the passage of the act to provide for the efficiency of the Navy, and the cause of the return from the Pacific station of certain officers recently serving in the East India squadron.

The House bill providing for the settlement of the claims of the officers of the Revolution was advocated by Bell of New Hampshire, and opposed by Clay. Adjourned.

House.—A large number of bills upon a variety of subjects were introduced by various members.

Among them one by Carlisle, equalizing Among them one by Carlisle, equalizing grants of land in the several States; by Letcher, establishing a branch mint in the city of New York; by Colfax, abolishing the duty on sugar; by Woodworth, for a railroad and telegraph line to the Pacific; by Herbert, granting alternate sections of land to California for railroad purposes, and a bill providing for the sale of surveyed land in that State; by Whitfield, for the erection of public buildings and military reads rection of public buildings and military roads n Kansas; by Wood, for one or more railroads from Mississippi to the Pacific; by Florence, to equalize army, navy, and marine pensions.

The House went into committee of the Whole on the Tariff Bill.

Mr. Aikens, in raply to Mr. Bowie's remarks of yesterday, defended the American party from the charge of proscription of persons of foreign hirth and yindia test their receiving.

birth, and vindicated their position against the Roman Catholic Church. He deprecated the liseussion of the slavery question as of mis-hievous tendency, saying in this connection, chievous tendency, saying in this connection, that up to 1854 a majority of Southern Representatives voted to sustain the Missouri Compromise, and asked whether it was just to charge him with Freesoilism because he had opposed a repeal of that measure.

Mr. Durfee maintained not only the constitutional power but the duty of the Government to protect and encourage the industrial pursuits of of the country. He particularly spoke of the justice of admitting free of duty materials which enter into American manufactures, so that in this respect we shall be placed upon a footing with English manufactures. He would give his support to any bill which should contain judicious discrimination in favor of American industry.

Mr. Letcher wished to know whether the bill or the substitute presented by Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, was a mere man of straw, set up to be fought for the present, and whether when the discussion closed he intended to introduce anther bill, speak on it for an hour and then ter inate the debate without affording others an opportunity to be heard.

Mr. Cambell replied that he set up no man of straw, but that it might become necessary to move a substitute for the bill after its considera-tion in committee of the whole on the State of the Inion. No advantage would be taken of any Mr. Letcher said some definite measure ought now to be presented by the majority of the com-mittee of Ways and Means in order to aim at a ast conclusion.

Mr. Campbell wished to know whether a majority of that committee had presented a scheme on which they would stand, and whether Letcher ntended to sustain Bowie's bill for a horizont Mr. Letcher replied, that when the majority of the committee of Ways and Means present a proposition on which they will stand or fall, the minority will present their substitute for it, but minority will present their substitute for it, but the latter cannot now present their substitute for a bill which the majority say they will abandon. Mr. Campbell denied the majority intend to abandon the principles on which the bill is founded and which are set forth in their report on the

A bill was introduced into the House to-day by Mr. Letcher, for the establishment of a branch mint in the city of New York. It places its control and regulation under the Director of the Philadelphia mint—provides for the coinage of chinadelphia mint—progeld and silver—for the necessary onegeld and silver—for the necessary office.

Mr. Raymond, the editor of the New York

Corruption Investigation Committee. Washington, Jan. 14.
Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, having to day success fully demanded the previous question on refer-ring the President's message to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, was in vain appealed to, by those who wished to proceed with the consideration of the speeches to dissuade him from pressing his motion.

Mr. Rusk made some remarks rather tartly in ondemnation of the course of Mr. Campbell in our cutting of the debate and was replied to by Mr. Campbell in a similar spirit.

The affair was of but a moment, and probably ended with the occasion, but it affords the foundation for much gossip and guesses of disagreeable events not likely to occur. The correspondent of the New York Times who t was said left the city to avoid testifying before

I would call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the above letter, handed to me by Messrs. W., B. & Co., extensive liquor merchants. It is well known by the Cincinnati public that several of my Safes, of different sizes, have stood, of late, every severe tests. Among others, I would refer to the fire at Mr. Scowil's, druggist that of Messrs. Davie & Co., iron merchants and founders; that of Messrs. Davie & Co., iron merchants and founders; that of Mr. Shillito, soap and candle lactor; that of Messrs. Gireaud & Sarram's liquor and white merchants. The Safes all came out victorious, although surrounded by the most combustable material.

Having acquired all the rate improvements. I dare say that my Safes are inferior to none made this sidu the mountains. As to the outer appearance, I combine nearness with durability. Thankful for past favors, a continuation of patronage is knadly solicited.
